

August walk

We walked down
Ainsworth Hall
Road and passed Greenside

At Ainsworth Hall Farm, we turned right along Old Wood Lane – the footpath used by the villagers, but now rather overgrown

Horses in the field came to join us

Horses in the field came to join us

Horses in the field came to join us

We would have been better to ride them through the mud!!

Looking back at Ainsworth Hall
Farm

Site of Rylands v
Fletcher legal case

Site of Rylands v
Fletcher legal case

Whilst one group were looking at the lily leaves on the Lodge, the rest of the group moved on Unfortunately when the group left the lodge there was no sign of the rest of the group, and with three paths to choose from, there was no way of knowing which way they had gone!!

We shouted – but there was no response

And so we were lost and abandoned!!

But wait! - Was this a rescue helicopter??

At last our absence was noticed and our leader came back to find us!

Red Brook, which marks the boundary between Ainsworth Parish and the next parish – and also between Bolton and Bury

The bridge at Red Bridge Mill

Red Bridge Mill

Looking at the mill chimney

The back of the old Red Bridge Pub

The back of Dearden's Farm

Returning to Greenside

The footpath leading back to Greenside – which some people who had lived in the village for years were unaware of

